c. In August 2008, the new Consumer Products Protection Act passed with provisions covering the use of pthalates in products for children under 12; this is a product that is used in the manufacturing of children's books. The regulation states that as of February 12, 2009 children under the age of 12 will not be allowed contact with anything that has pthalates in it. This would mean children would not be allowed in the library. CLA and ALA are working to get an exemption or delay for libraries.

A. Library facility update

Mr. Atkins went over the Ad-Hoc Building Committee's agenda. The timeline was discussed in brief. The target for the opening of the new library is 2013, on the 100 year anniversary of library services in Dixon.

During the process of planning for a new library there will be at least one phone survey of the public to assess willingness to pay various possible levels of increase taxation. Godbe and Associates was mentioned as the survey company to do the job.

B. Budget review and temporary freeze items

Due to the potential for decrease in Library revenues, the Governing Board of Library Trustees recommended that Mr. Atkins identify and implement budget reductions in 2008-09 expenditures.
